

Addressing the impacts of climate change

IPU virtual events around COP28

The planet is at a boiling point. The multi-faceted impacts of climate change affect people and ecosystems, increasing inequalities and creating new vulnerabilities.

Building on the momentum of the upcoming IPU Parliamentary Meeting at COP28, the IPU is providing a platform for parliamentarians and parliamentary staff to reflect on key climate challenges, share lessons and practices and shape common solutions.

Join our virtual events for these exchanges and learning opportunities with parliamentarians from all regions, leading experts and partners.

IPU climate change virtual events schedule

Mountains, parliaments and the Global Goal for Adaptation:

- Preparing for COP28 (20 November 2023)

Webinar series on health in climate emergencies:

- Preparedness at the interface of health and climate change (14 November 2023)
- Health equity in climate emergency response (25 January 2024)
- Building resilience: Universal health coverage in the climate change era (22 February 2024)

Inter-Parliamentary Union
For democracy. For everyone.

Further information and registration at:

